

Adult sponsors with decent rss feeds (wp plugins at the bottom)

Sorry this is a bit of a mess. Thought the links were more important than making it look pretty. The ones that seem to make the most for me, I've put a big * next to them.

wordpress plugins worth using (only couple are to do with auto posting...)

wp autoblog – it was good. But as far as I know it isn't supported in the latest version of wp (since 2.3 I think). It was at <http://elliottback.com/wp/archives/2006/06/06/wp-autoblog-a-syndication-plugin/> then it was removed (as he realized loads were using it to spam). You can find it on other sites. Seen it on bluehatseo.com I think. Its easy to use if you got loads of feeds to import (its just in a simple textarea box, so just paste em in). it does some text replacing too (handy to replace adsense code sort of thing...). Seen one with a markov script built in too

Plugin Name: Click Tracking

This produces nice "heat maps" of clicks on your site

Plugin Name: FD Feedburner Plugin

always handy. Can get the feedburner feed indexed, too

This is what I use for auto posting now. Takes a little longer to set up (and make sure you set it up so clicking the post titles goes to a post, and not to the url from the feed (if that makes sense)

Plugin Name: Google XML Sitemaps

Plugin URI: <http://www.arnebrachhold.de/udir/sitemap-home/>

Author: Janis Elsts

Author URI: <http://w-shadow.com/blog/>

Hides those horrible looking affiliate links. If used with feedwordpress you need to make a few edits to the redirector pages (change & to & if I remember correctly)

Plugin Name: Related Posts

Use this on auto posting sites, and include a snippet below content, it seems to help a little. And gets reduces bounce rate (more things for people to click and and read)

Easy and quick stats. Not the most perfect stats program but its very handy for quick stats rather than setting up a site in google analytics or sitemeter or whatever.

And lastly

Linkex
